SELLING A GOOD PRODUCT—Here are a few of the civic-minded employees of Cone Mills who are volunteering their salesmanship services in the current campaign for Cone Memorial YMCA members. They are shown with their workers' kits which they, along with 100 other volunteers, received at a dinner last Saturday night. They have a good product; why not give it a try? Left to right they are, Truman Gant, East White Oak; Roy Phillips, Print Works; Mrs. R. A. Hughes, Revolution; James H. Berckman, Proximity; Mrs. M. E. Carr, Canteen Service; Virgil Pace, White Oak.

Approximately 1,000 To Receive Invitations To Service Award Event

Invitations to Cone Mills sixth annual service award dinner will be mailed next Wednesday, September 29 to the approximately 1,000 employees of the company's Greensboro plants who have 25 years or more service. The event will be held on Saturday, October 9 at Greensboro Tobacco Warehouse at 6 p. m. One hundred and thirty-one employees who have completed 25 years service with Cone Mills since last year's awards were made, will be presented blue and gold service pins bearing the Cone Seal of 25 Years Service. Specially honored guests will be the five employees who have achieved a half century of service within the past year.

The new 50-year employees, bringing the total of those with a half-century of service now actively connected with the company to 13, are: Crawford A. Self, Central Maintenance Department, Proximity Plant; William L. Newnam, Weaving Department, Revolution Division Flannel Plant; Henry M. Beal, Weaving Department, Revolution Division Flannel Plant; Hugh P. Andrews, Supply Room, White Oak Plant, and Alfred B. High, Main Office. All came to work at Cone Mills in 1904.

Daniel W. Holler, machinist at Proximity Plant, who completed 50 years at Cone Mills last May, died on September 13. He will be honored posthumously.

Eight other employees with more than a half-century of service who were presented engraved gold watches at previous service banquets, will also receive special recognition at the October 9 occasion. They are Saul F. Dribben, president of Cone Mills Inc. and vice president of Cone Mills Corporation; with the company since 1894; R. H. Armfield, White Oak Plant, since 1900; Jeffrie L. Oakley and Leslie L. Oakley, Weaving Department, Revolution Division Flannel Plant, since 1900; Miss Bessie E. Scott, Spinning Department, Proximity Plant, since 1901; Martin J. Leach, Weaving Department, Proximity Plant, since 1901; Arthur C. Maness, Carpenter Shop, Proximity Plant, since 1902, and Mrs. Emma F. Branch, Weaving Department, since 1903.

YOUR NEWS REPRESENTATIVE...

"Two heads are better than one," as the old saying goes, and Pineville folks must think so, because they have two capable young ladies as their representatives to The Textorian. They are Mrs. Inez Culp, shown at left, and Mrs. Mary Robinson, both employees of the Spinning Department. Mrs. Culp's husband is James G. Culp, employed at the Naval Ammunition Depot in Charlotte. They have three children; two attend East Mecklenburg High School, and the other attends Pineville School. Mrs. Culp is a member of Pineville Presbyterian Church. She has been employed in the Spinning Room for the past six years. Mrs. Robinson's husband, Fletcher Robinson, is an employee in the Weaving Department at Pineville Plant. They have one son, employed by Shaw Manufacturing Company in Charlotte. A member of Stough Memorial Baptist Church, she is program chairman for the Women's Missionary Society. She is also active in civic work. She has been with the Pineville Plant since 1937.

YMCA Membership Drive Is Launched

Marion W. Heiss, vice president of Cone Mills Corporation, delivered the message at the dinner meeting of volunteer workers launching the membership campaign for Cone Memorial YMCA last Saturday night. Sydney M. Cone, Jr., vice president, was master of ceremonies at the event which was attended by approximately 100 people. A victory dinner will close the current campaign on Saturday night, October 2 when Edwin M. Holt, assistant vice president will be the speaker. The volunteers securing the largest number of members will be honored at that time.

Mr. Heiss urged the campaign workers to know their product and to present it to their customers in the best way possible, calling attention to what the YMCA offers the communities. He compared the fundamental principals of this type of "selling" with the selling of Cone fabrics, charging the campaigners and YMCA staff with a dual responsibility: selling, and delivering quality material.

V. O. Watson, chairman of the campaign, H. M. Angel, executive secretary of Cone Memorial YMCA, and Gustav Ziprik, membership secretary, spoke briefly. Mr. Ziprik explained the workers kits containing membership cards.

Majors in the drive are R. C. Honeycutt, White Oak; Wade Jenkins, Proximity; Gordie Boyd, Print Works; Will Marshburn, Revolution Flannel Plant; Jack Hughes, Revolution Rayon Plant, and Rawley Meadows, Guilford Products Company.

James E. Booker, secretary of East White Oak YMCA, entertained the group by singing a Negro spiritual.

White Oak Club Plans Halloween Party

White Oak Community Club met on Monday night, September 12 in the International Room of the YMCA. Miss Beatrice Jones was hostess, and Mrs. Otto Burnside presided. A Halloween party was planned for October 15.

Devotional was by Mrs. J. I. Walker who based her talk on the Sixty-first Psalm.

Mrs. Lowell Steele made an appeal for the membership drive of Cone Memorial YMCA, suggesting that the club have 100 per cent membership.

Members and their friends are invited to come to the Halloween party in costume. Members are asked to bring "white elephants" to give as prizes.

Others present were Mrs. A. B. Robinson, Mrs. Vance Trolinger, Mrs. L. C. Harris and Miss Mary Louise Wyrick.

Employees Interested In Night School To Meet

Revolution employees who are interested in forming night school classes for the coming fall and winter are being asked to meet in the Revolution conference room on September 28 at 7 p. m. or September 29 at 10 a. m. Every employee who desires to attend a vocational class should go to one of these meetings or have someone attend for him. Employees from other plants may attend if they wish. Plans for classes to begin about October 12 will be made at these meetings.

Plans are being made for an X-2 Loom Fixing course to be taught in the basement weave room at White Oak YMCA at 7 p. m. Schedules for meetings will be worked out at that time. A welding group is to be organized at the same time and place if sufficient persons are interested.

Machine Shop classes are to organize on October 12 in the White Oak YMCA at 7 p. m. Schedules for meetings will be worked out at that time. A welding group is to be organized at the same time and place if sufficient persons are interested.

Some interest has been shown in the organization of a weaving class. All those interested in such a course should meet Arnold Tidwell at the White Oak YMCA at 6 p. m. on October 12. The location as well as the time and place of meetings will be decided by those attending this meeting.

Employees who are interested in organizing vocational courses should speak to the personnel assistant, the superintendent, assistant superintendent, or overseer, or should call 329. Wherever possible, courses will be arranged when sufficient employees request them and suitable instructors are available.

Cone Civic Clubs Endorse Y Drive

The many civic clubs in the Cone Mills communities, realizing the good that has been accomplished by the Y.M.C.A., have all heartily endorsed the membership campaign of the Cone Memorial Y.M.C.A. which is now in progress.

Commander Lloyd K. Parsons of Cone Post American Legion, had this to say about the Y. "The Y.M.C.A. has been a great help to our organization. Many times we have used Camp Herman for outings. The many Brunswick stews sponsored by our Post would have been impossible were it not for the help of the staff."

C. M. Culbreth, president of the North Greensboro Kennel Club said: "Our club uses the Y.M.C.A. as its meeting place. We have about 60 club members and all of our projects have been held at the 'Y' through the assistance of the 'Y' staff. None of these things would be possible without the Y.M.C.A. and its fine staff."

Jack Campbell, chancellor commander of Cone Lodge Knights of Pythias, said: "The Pythians hold their annual banquet at the White Oak buildings, and our Lodge has always received cooperation from the local associations. Then too, during the summer months our members use the facilities at Camp Herman which we appreciate very much."

W. O. Leonard, president of the White Oak Y's Men's Club: "I whole-heartedly endorse the Y.M.C.A. and its programs. It has been my personal experience to benefit from the services of the 'Y' ever since I was old enough to enter the program at six years of age. It has meant much to the youngsters of the community and an increasingly larger program is being made available to the adults. I happen to know the Cone community enjoys one of the lowest juvenile delinquency rates compared with other sections of Greensboro, and I attribute a good bit of that record to the three Y.M.C.A.'s."

"The White Oak Y's Men's Club is made up of Y men who recognize the value of that institution in our community and who are working with it to strengthen its service."

Other clubs which have pledged support in the membership drive which ends October 2 are: Proximity Community Club, White Oak Community Club, Proximity Y's Men's Club, Cone Toastmasters Club, White Oak Matrons Club, and the Entre Nous Club.

Representatives From 16 Cone Plants Attend Cotton Seminar Here

More than 100 representatives of 16 plants of Cone Mills Corporation engaged in the manufacture of cotton textiles attended a seminar on cotton fibre qualities and spinning in the conference room of Proximity Branch of Cone Memorial YMCA last Tuesday. Dr. Earl Berkley, director of research and fibre and spinning laboratories of Anderson, Clayton and Company, Inc., with headquarters in Houston, Texas, was principal speaker.

Herman Cone, president of Cone Mills Corporation, welcomed the group and pointed out that since Cone Mills uses 400,000 bales of cotton annually it is important that mill personnel become more familiar with the fibre properties of cotton and their various effects on spinning, weaving and finishing. Anderson, Clayton Company is one of Cone Mills' largest sources for raw cotton.

Others taking part in the discussion were J. N. Little, director of the Anderson, Clayton Atlanta division laboratory; M. A. Woolen, Lead of the Atlanta division, and J. M. Brantley, Greensboro office of Anderson, Clayton. Several Cone officials were also present.

Garden Remnants Can Be Useful

There are several most choice uses for "garden remnants," such as green tomatoes, small ripe tomatoes, surplus cabbage and onions.

These home-garden vegetables are ingredients used in making of relish, chili-sauce, chow-chow, etc., which add greatly to flavor of the less expensive cuts of meat.

Just now, pears and apples will be going to waste unless the housewives act quickly to gather the ripe fruit and store it in jars for winter use.

Mrs. Herbert Caviness, Mrs. J. L. Hinshaw, Mrs. Robert Hughes and Mrs. Clem Dowdy used Revolution Welfare kitchen last week for making pear preserves, pear relish, chow-chow and apple sauce.

Baked apples and baked pears can be successfully canned and make quick desert for winter evenings.

Join the ranks of the thrifty homemakers, and save the late garden produce and fruit.

Industrial Relations Conf. Nov. 18-19

Ninth Piedmont Industrial Relations Conference will be held in Winston-Salem at Hotel Robert E. Lee on November 18-19. The meetings will begin at noon on Thursday, November 18 and conclude at 2:30 p. m. on Friday. Theme for the conference will be "Effective Supervision — The key to a Successful Industrial Relations Program."

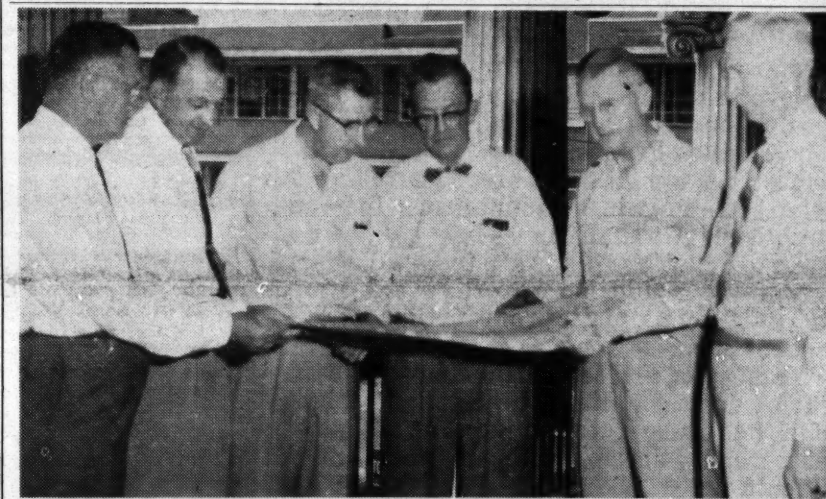

Purpose of the conference is to aid industry in the Piedmont section of Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina in the up-to-date techniques of employer-employee relations.

Keeping in mind industry's most important asset is its employees, the conference leaders have planned the event for economical training with qualified speakers and with time for exchange of ideas among delegates.

The meeting will be under sponsorship of the Piedmont Industrial Relations Conference Committee of the Winston-Salem Chamber of Commerce.

AT SEMINAR—These are a few of the representatives of 16 Cone plants attending the cotton seminar at Proximity YMCA, sponsored by Anderson, Clayton and Company, Inc., last Tuesday. They are, left to right, M. A. Bearden and E. S. Packard of Cliffside Plant; Paul Walker, Minneola, Gibsonville; Coley Phillips, Revolution Flannel Plant; John Scott, Proximity Plant, and D. D. Smiley, Salisbury Plant.

LEARNING MORE ABOUT COTTON—Here is another group of the approximately 100 Cone Mills men who attended the seminar on cotton at Proximity on Tuesday. They are F. G. James, Pineville; C. H. Moody, Dwight Division, Alabama City, Ala.; Dick Mitchell, Tabardrey Plant, Haw River; S. R. Basinger, White Oak; Joseph Hughes, Eno Plant, Hillsboro; H. R. Stone, Edna Plant, Reidsville; F. E. Cantrell and G. E. King, Florence Mill, Forest City.

Employees Enjoy Recreation Center

The annual report of the Camp Herman Recreation center, for Cone Mills Corporation employees and dependent members of their families, shows that the facilities have been well received by employees of the various plants, for swimming, boating, and other activities.

The report indicates swimming 10,919, boating 7,593, fishing 458; horseshoes, 80 groups, 424 participants; shuffle board 77 groups, 479 participants; softball, 4 groups, 221 participants; ping pong, 40 groups, 155 participants; picnics, 68 groups, 3,008 participants; week end camp, 1 group, 70 participants.

Total attendance, June, 3,290; July, 4,966; August, 4,765; September, 376. Grand total 13,397.

The several thousand people who have made use of these facilities have expressed gratitude to the board of directors of the Cone Memorial Y.M.C.A., and Cone Mills Corporation, which makes possible

Miss Frances Holman Writes Open Letter

The following is an open letter from Miss Frances Holman to readers of The Textorian.

"Dear friends,
"I wish to express my appreciation for all the lovely gifts I received from my friends in the plant and community upon my retirement as head of the First Aid Department at Proximity Plant on September 1.

"I want to thank the Cone officials, the superintendents, supervisors of different departments of the plant, the nurses, The Textorian and my many friends in the community for their cooperation, kindness, thoughtfulness, loyalty and faithfulness throughout the years.

"The days spent in your midst will always be cherished memories and help to brighten my hours of unemployment."

"Best wishes to everybody."
Sincerely,
(Signed) Frances Holman

Straight Talk

The European situation is loaded with dynamite. Although the danger is not immediate, the potentialities are of serious importance.

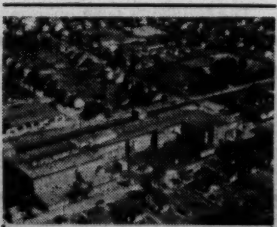

To be absolutely fair, we can understand the reluctance on the part of the French to permitting Germany to rearm. Certainly the French have suffered seriously in the past because of the military strength of Germany. On the other hand, we must also recognize the pitiable condition of the French nation. Certainly no one can recognize great stability there. We are afraid that this view is shared throughout the world. We do not believe that we are being unfair in stating that the most pathetic of all nations in Europe today is France.

If a future solidified Europe geared up to defend itself against communism is to be accomplished, Germany must be a part of the set-up. In fact, as things are today, Western Germany can add more to the strength of such anti-communistic program than France can.

We must, of course, continuously share the fear of what a militaristic Germany might do in the future if we can judge at all by the past. That is the reason the problem is most difficult.

Non-Communist Germany must sooner or later be properly recognized as a nation and should be brought into the group of free nations in order to properly function as such. That can not be accomplished unless Germany rearms. At the same time, the proper precautions must be taken to avoid a repetition of the aggression and world domination ambitions of Germany.

We must all admit that isolationism is out of the question and we would certainly not preach that type of doctrine, but at the same time, this country must of necessity be realistic, and if Europe is not willing to work with us in establishing the type of alliance that is necessary to combat communism and to save Europe as a free section of the world, then we cannot force such a development. We should, however, expend every effort to bring about that accomplishment, and it is probably going to require some pretty straight across-the-table talk with the leaders of France and the other countries involved.

Mrs. Mazzy Morgan attended the wedding of her niece, Miss Betty Jo Bivins and James Hayes in High Point, Sunday, September 12.

PFC James G. Hamlett, former employee of Eno Plant, has graduated from the Repeater and Carrier Installation and Maintenance Course, one of the many courses offered at the Southeastern Signal School, Camp Gordon, Ga.

The course, which is 20 weeks in length, trains selected enlisted personnel in the installation and maintenance of field and fixed plant carrier and repeater equipment, which allows several simultaneous telephone and telegraph transmissions over a single pair of wires. "Jimmy" has now been sent to Ft. Lewis, Washington, for an overseas assignment.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Murray, accompanied by their son Richard, of Landis, recently visited Mrs. Murray's sister in Baltimore, Md., returning to Hillsboro over the scenic Skyline Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Walser and Mrs. Betty Sue Minnis spent the Labor Day holiday in Clinton, Tenn., with the Walsers' other daughter, Mrs. Alene Collins and family. While there, they also motored to several points of interest in Kentucky.

Visitors in Hillsboro last week with Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Hardee were Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Keck and boys, Bruce and Steve, of Hanks Chapel community, Chatham County, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Hamlett of Yanceyville.

Mrs. Ernest Ligon, Mrs. W. P. Gates, Mr. and Mrs. Petain Berry and Frank Gates spent last Sunday at Virginia Beach, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. James Crawford of Washington, D. C. visited Mr. and Mrs. Cicero Roberts last Tuesday.

The P.T.A. of the West Hillsboro School held its first meeting of the new term September 13 at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Ira Peede. Rev. Warren Kerr, pastor of the West Hillsboro Baptist Church, conducted the devotional. His very interesting talk was based on the subject of our churches and schools working together for the welfare of our children.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Austin and family, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Austin, Jr. and daughter, Linda, and Miss Mabel Miller toured the western part of the state during the Labor Day week end.

The secretary, Mr. George Dabbs, read the minutes of the meeting of the executive committee held on September 7.

The next meeting will be October 11, at 7:30 p.m. and they urge each parent to attend. The program chairman, Mrs. Dewey Guess, has some interesting programs scheduled for the coming year.

Later in the evening, refreshments were served in the school cafeteria by Mrs. George Smith and Mrs. George Dabbs.

Eight girls were present last Wednesday afternoon when Girl Scout Troop 5 met at the West Hillsboro School. The following officers were elected to serve for the following year: president, Brenda Hicks; scribe, Jean Batton; treasurer, Sandra Dixon; patrol leaders, Linda and Glenda Terrell; planning committee, Billie Ann Hall; supply committee, Betty Jean Davis.

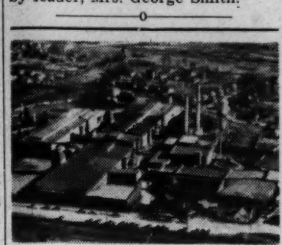

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Rippey and family were visitors at Carolina

Beach last week end.

Ernest Ligon vacationed recently in Washington, D. C. and Danville, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Terrell spent last week end at Carolina Beach.

Following roll call and collection of dues, the Troop was dismissed by leader, Mrs. George Smith.

Also killed in the same accident was Jim Boyd, brother-in-law of Lester Morgan.

Church is 64 Years Old

Coburn Memorial Methodist Church celebrated its 64th anniversary Sunday, September 12, with special homecoming services. Two former pastors, Dr. W. G. McFarland and Rev. A. C. Waggoner, delivered the sermons at the morning and evening services respectively. Many former pastors and friends of the church were invited to attend the special services scheduled, which included an old-fashioned picnic dinner on the grounds adjoining the church, following the 11 a. m. service.

The history of Coburn Memorial Methodist Church dates back to 1886 when a group of six persons met with the late Rev. A. L. Coburn beneath some dogwood trees about two miles south of Salisbury to hold religious services.

From the meeting grew the Davis Mine Methodist Society that later built a chapel in the southern section of Salisbury. It was first used on the second Sunday in September, 1890, and 36 members comprised the congregation. It was known as the Chestnut Hill Methodist Church.

A brick church was built two years later and the first service in it was held on the second Sunday in September, 1893. It was formally dedicated in 1896 by Bishop Gallo-way and the name changed to South Main Methodist.

Plans for a new house of worship started in 1922 under the pastorate of Rev. M. B. Woosley. A new site at the corner of South Church and Chestnut Streets was bought in 1925, the first brick laid July 27, 1925 by the Rev. A. L. Coburn and the name changed to Coburn Memorial in honor of the pastor and founder.

The church was occupied for the first time on September 12, 1926, and the structure completed in 1928. Small reductions on the debt were made during the years of the depression, but from 1937 to 1940, the church raised over $21,000 to clear all obligations and make possible the dedication on September 8, 1940, with Bishop Clare Purcell delivering the dedicatory sermon.

The plant is valued at more than $250,000. The auditorium has a seating capacity of 1,000. A Stan-daart two-manual pipe organ was added to the sanctuary this year.

The Sunday School, well graded and departmentalized, has accommodations for 900 members. A pastor's study and other facilities are provided.

In 1949, during the pastorate of Rev. E. H. Brendall, the old parsonage was sold and moved from the site adjoining the church property, and a new brick parsonage, modern in every respect, including radiant heat, was built at a cost of over $20,000.

The present membership of the church is in excess of 850 while the Sunday School has 600 pupils enrolled. The Women's Society of Christian Service, the stewards, church school and other groups and individuals have been active in church activities.

The following members have entered the ministry from the church: Max Brandon, J. N. Wise, Ralph Shumaker, James Rink, Ralph Bridges, Lindsay Taylor, Marvin Boggs, and Bill Link.

Former pastors who have served the church include: A. L. Coburn, S. D. Stamey, T. L. Triplett, L. H. Triplett, A. L. Coburn, D. P. Tate, Allen H. Whistner, W. Y. Scales, J. A. J. Farrington, J. B. Craven, W. O. Davis, G. A. Stamper, C. F. Sherrill, J. H. Brendall, P. W. Tucker, J. C. Rowe, H. E. Myers, W. B. Shill, M. B. Woosley, W. A. Rollins, R. G. Tuttle, H. H. Jordan, T. A. Groce, J. W. Fitzgerald, C. F. Moser, A. C. Swofford, A. C. Waggoner, W. G. McFarland, H. C. Sprinkle, N. C. Williams, M. G. Ervin, E. H. Brendall, and Dr. L. B. Hayes, present pastor.

NEW CHURCH—Shown above is the new First Evangelical and Reformed Church building at Salisbury. First services will be held in the new building on Sunday morning, October 3.

GUEST MINISTER—Dr. Banks J. Peeler

New Salisbury Church To Be Open Oct. 3

The new First Evangelical and Reformed Church building of Salisbury is being completed and is to be used for the first time on Sunday, October 3. Rev. Josh Levins is the pastor and has served this pastorate for the past nine years. The church was organized in 1896 with eight charter members and now has a membership of more than 450.

The new church, when completed, will cost in excess of $350,000. It is of Georgian Colonial design with an auditorium seating 400 and with a three story educational building and fellowship hall adequate for a church school enrollment of more than 800.

The Holy Communion will be observed at 11 o'clock on October 3. Beginning at 7:30 that evening and continuing each evening at that hour during the week, special services will be held with Dr. Banks J. Peeler of Lexington as the guest preacher. Dr. Peeler was pastor of First Church, Salisbury, for a number of years. The public is cordially invited to these services. Special music has been planned for each service.

The church is located in the 200 block of West Horah Street.

Miss Cozette Draffin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Draffin, 1507 Upland Drive, and her roommate, Miss Jane Wood, Fayetteville, spent the past week end with the Draffins. Both girls are juniors at the North Carolina Baptist School of Nursing.

Last rites can leave a beautiful memory picture when conducted with dignity and reverence amid a quiet, serene atmosphere.

Our every facility lends itself to create this impression.

Use of chapel, music and off-street parking add nothing to the cost of our service.

Draw nigh unto God, and He will draw nigh unto you.—(James 4, 8.)

God cannot enter us against our will, although He is ever present all about us. Through devout prayer we must invite Him into our being—first ridding ourselves of unrighteous thoughts, acts and desires; and thus cleansed, we throw open wide the doors of our mind and soul to receive His boundless love, His guidance and help.

Just the Facts, Ma'am

Ever wonder where the term "private eye," to describe a private detective, came from? It goes back into the 1880's and the founding of the Pinkerton Detective Agency. Its trademark was a wide-open eye, beneath which was the legend "We Never Sleep." People soon began calling the detectives you-know-what from the trademark, and people still do today.

The lake, which was heavily used every day for swimming, was tested weekly for its purity, by the City Health Department, and found to be in excellent physical condition. Fishing and boating were in considerable demand for those desiring to develop their boatmanship, and the art of casting the reel and rod. Horseshoes, commonly referred to as "barnyard golf," was always a source of enjoyment, and along with shuffle board, softball and ping pong always set the stage for a good dinner being served in the dining room, or a covered dish supper, for the family, church or community group. Wiener roasts and hamburger cook-outs were very popular, watermelon slicings and cantaloupe eating, together with toasted marshmallows put the finishing touches on many outing groups.

"Several of the church and young people's groups made use of the lakeshore for evening vespers on Sundays, while many other groups availed themselves of the vesper program around the dying embers of the campfire at the Council Ring. Singing their favorite spirituals, hymns, or singing to the strumming of the guitar or mandolin made many evenings not only pleasant memory, but they returned to the city and their jobs in the plant, store or office with zest, and a quickening of the tempo of their walk, and interest for community life," stated YMCA officials.

While the lake privileges of boating and swimming are closed, the camp is still open for fishing and groups from the plants, stores, offices, churches, schools and YMCA who like to go for various kinds of outings. Reservations may be made through the YMCA office.
